

Firsthand Technology Value Fund Announces Year-end Distribution of $2.86156 Per Share

San Jose, CA, November 24, 2014 – Firsthand Technology Value Fund, Inc. (NASDAQ: SVVC) (the “Fund”), a publicly-traded venture capital fund that invests in technology and cleantech companies, announced today a cash distribution to shareholders of $2.86156 per share. The distribution will be payable on December 11, 2014 to shareholders of record as of December 5, 2014.

The Fund distributes, on at least an annual basis, its net realized capital gains (realized gains minus realized losses), if any, for the year. The entire amount of this distribution represents long-term capital gains, primarily from our successful investment in Twitter (NYSE: TWTR). This is the second distribution to stockholders in the past 60 days and is expected to be the final distribution in 2014.

The Fund maintains a dividend reinvestment plan (“DRIP”) that provides for the reinvestment of all distributions on behalf of its registered stockholders, unless a stockholder has elected to receive distributions in cash. As a result, when the Fund declares a distribution, stockholders who hold their shares directly with the Fund and have not previously “opted out” of the DRIP by the record date of the distribution will have their distribution automatically invested into additional shares of SVVC common stock. Stockholders who hold their SVVC shares through a broker are not enrolled in the DRIP, but may instruct their broker to reinvest distributions on their behalf. Although the Fund has a number of options to satisfy the share requirements of the DRIP, it currently expects that the DRIP plan administrator will acquire the shares through open market purchases of common stock.
